

JONES CHARGES EXTRAVAGANCE IN PHILIPPINES

ISLAND GOVERNMENT CALLED OLIGARCHY

Attacking the American Government in the Philippines as "a law-defying, self-interested oligarchy," which has plunged the islands in debt, violated the acts of Congress and defeated the ends of justice, Congressman William A. Jones, chairman of the Committee on Insular Affairs, delivered a vigorous speech in support of his bill for the ultimate independence of the Philippines.

Mr. Jones challenged the propriety of President Taft's act in criticizing legislation now pending in Congress, and in "giving advice" to the new Administration. The President's function, he said, was to recommend legislation, not to criticize pending measures.

Denies Taft's Views.
In speaking of the present government of the Philippines, he said:
"I not only assert, but I shall undertake to prove by incontrovertible facts, that the government which the United States has imposed upon the Philippines, and under the dominance of which they are forced to live, is an oligarchy of the most despotic, intolerable, and unrestricted character."

Congressman Jones replied to the recent speech of President Taft, made before the Ohio Society in New York, and radically differed with the Executive's views that American control, similar to that which Great Britain exercises over her colonies, should continue in the islands.

Jones charged Governor General Forbes with gross extravagance and declared that under his administration no less than $10,000,000 had been expended for salaries for chiefs and assistants.

"The government which this country has imposed on the Philippines," he said, "is an oligarchy of the most intolerable, despotic and unrestricted character."

The Hangul road, built through the mountains, to the summer homes of the American colony, the speaker asserted, cost the Philippines over $1,000,000 and an annual upkeep of $500,000.

"Governor Forbes, having in hand $12,000,000 to $14,000,000 in funds this year, has proceeded to spend them according to his own will and in utter disregard for which the prior legislative appropriations had been made," Jones declared.

Tells Of Automobiles.
Among other things, Jones said, 123 new bureaus had been inaugurated, and that besides furnishing automobiles to bureau chiefs, the governor had appointed a private secretary for his own use at a salary of $4,500 a year.

Part of the $3,000,000 appropriated by Congress for use in alleviating suffering among the starving natives, the speaker charged, was converted by the governing body and used in building the Benquet road. This policy, pursued during American occupancy, he said, has turned what affection the natives had for this country into hatred.

In dilating upon the expense which the islands are to the Government, Jones declared that it had cost the United States nearly $600,000,000 to maintain an army since American occupancy.

WIDE RANGE SHOWN IN VICTOR RECORDS

High-Class Offerings Vary From Caruso and Paderewski to Elsie Janis' Number.

Truly impressive is the array of music provided in the Victor Records for January. From that perennial favorite of Victrola owners, Enrico Caruso, to Elsie Janis and the Ermine "Good Night" chorus, the new monthly offerings reveal the great range and resources of the Victor organization.

Caruso sings that most famous of French sacred songs, "Benedictus," and the climaxes employ the full power of his magnificent voice. Titta Ruffo, the foremost operatic baritone, who made his American debut this season, is heard in three numbers—an aria from "The Masked Ball," another from Leoncavallo's opera of "Zaza," and the Don Giovanni serenade of Mozart. He sings them with the grace and fluency which have gained him his position in the musical world.

Only second in importance are John McCormack's two new ballads and the favorite, "Love's Old Sweet Song," by Clarence Whitehill. Paderewski's rendering of Liszt's "Etude in F Minor" is in the characteristic style. Miss Maud Powell, violinist, plays a Wienawski dance with dancing fluency, and Frank La Forge presents two splendid piano solos, Gottschalk's "Pasequinaldo" and one of Chaminade's most popular numbers.

"Pagliacci" is the opera selected for the medley by the Victor Opera Company. Robert Hilliard gives a moving and thrilling recital of the dramatic poem, "Christina in the Workshop." Elsie Janis' command of dialect is shown in her Italian song, "When Antonio Plays the Chorus." "On the Mississippi," the lovely "Song of Provence," and Ada Jones and Leon Spencer sing a lively Southern number, "On the Mississippi." The Trinity choir and Elsie Barker records are also excellent.

The variety of the Victor monthly list is exceeded only by its quality. Music lovers of all tastes are provided for.

KENSINGTON LAWYER ASKS ELECTION TO MARYLAND SENATE

J. Dawson Williams Avowed Candidate for Place of Senator Lee.

ROCKVILLE, Md., Jan. 28.—J. Dawson Williams, of Kensington, has made formal announcement of his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for the State senate from this county to succeed Senator Blair Lee. The probabilities seem to be that Mr. Williams will have no opposition. He will have the support of the Peter brothers, who are his close personal and political friends, and he is also the choice of the friends of Col. Spencer C. Jones.

With that combination behind him, considered in connection with his personal popularity and influential family connections, his nomination seems assured. Senator Lee, of course, will not be a candidate, as he is just now engaged in hunting bigger game in the shape of a United States Senatorship.

No Rival Expected.
Should Mr. Williams have an opponent for the nomination, it will be due to the faction of which Senator Blair Lee is the leader, but it is not thought likely that the Lee people will put forward a candidate for the reason that Mr. Williams and Senator Lee have been political friends since each became active in the politics of the county, and as the two have many warm mutual friends among whom there is a feeling that Mr. Williams deserves the honor.

In 1909 there was a movement in the county for Mr. Williams as the successor of Mr. Lee in the State senate, but Mr. Williams would not consider a contest, and earnestly supported Senator Lee, as he did, also, in the gubernatorial primary.

Williams' Record.
Mr. Williams was a member of the legislature of 1908. He served on the ways and means committee, and was early appointed by Speaker Ray a member of the Democratic steering committee. He was the first man in that legislature to respond to the suggestion of a good roads movement outlined by the late Governor Crothers in his inaugural address, and introduced the joint resolution providing for the present State roads, later leading the fight for that part of the law which gave to each county a definite proportion of the road fund.

Mr. Williams is treasurer of the Democratic State central committee for this county, and in the last campaign raised in this county by popular subscription more than $12,000 for the Wilson fund. He is a graduate of Western Maryland College, and took a special course at Johns Hopkins University in history and political science.

Is Practicing Lawyer.
He is a member of the bars of Montgomery county and the District of Columbia, and practices his profession in Rockville and Washington city. He is a director of the Kensington Bank and resides in that town with the family of his father, Arthur Williams. He is thirty years old.

Dog Bites Boy.
JAMES A. CUMBERLAND, fourteen years old, of 206 Massachusetts avenue northeast, was bitten on the left leg by a dog while visiting at the home of friends at 728 Maryland avenue northeast last evening. He had the wound dressed at the Casualty Hospital.

MANY STATES WILL KEEP TROOPS FROM INAUGURAL PARADE

Legislatures Block Appropriations for Sending Militias Here for Inauguration.

The general of the Society of Colonial Cavaliers and author of the ultra-feminine Peacocks of America, said today:

"The Smithsonian Museum could easily have been altered over for the purpose of the inaugural ball. The President, Executive and social business is the chief industry of Washington, as much as the ecclesiastical and ancient ruins business is that of modern Rome. Anything which militates against that strikes Washington in its social plexus."

At the same time, the President and Mrs. Taft, we humbly trust that the Executive mansion is not going to fall back into a state of social anarchy.

Keen Rivalry Under Way.
The inaugural committee is pitted against the suffragette pageant organizers in a keen competition for supremacy in parade matters. Blocked in every move, the women have made up their minds to eclipse the inaugural parade. The citizens' inaugural committee, stirred by the women's intrusion, as they secretly call it, are just as determined that the inaugural parade shall be far brighter and better than the pageant.

Meantime, the efforts of the two organizations are making for the finest inaugural week program ever given in Washington. Visitors are assured of two magnificent spectacles as the result of the bitter rivalry between the two bodies.

Say Woman Have Advantage.
Around Washington, Congressmen and citizens are saying under their breath that the women have the inside track, and that they will stage a far more remarkable and beautiful affair than the men. The women feel that way, in fact, the only thing that now causes worry is that the pageant will be so enormous as to be beyond the scope of the organizers.

Chairman R. N. Harper, of the civic organizations committee, perhaps the hardest worked man on the inaugural committee, has his back to the wall and is in the fight to make his parade the best in history. Major General Wood, too, is planning a fine military section, but smaller than in previous years.

The controversy between the inaugural committee's stands contractor, William S. Riley, and the suffragette organizers is not at all, but there are signs today of a compromise.

May Compromise on Stands.
Mr. Riley wants the women to give up the Sherman Square stands plan, but they feel that their fight to obtain the permission was too difficult to allow them to make such an easy surrender. Consequently they have refused point blank to submit to Mr. Riley's proposition on that point. He has modified his terms, and it seems today that the warring factions may come to some agreement, satisfactory to the women, and likewise profitable to Mr. Riley.

The Sherman Square stand for pageant day will be constructed by some contractor, soon to be selected by the suffragettes. The remaining stands, under the direction of Mr. Riley, will probably be used on pageant day under a partnership arrangement with the women.

Veto Ends Reception Plan.
The President-elect's veto of the White House reception plan makes it positive that there will be no public inaugural social event. Private individuals and societies probably will provide brilliant affairs for even a larger crowd than would have attended an inaugural ball or reception. The inaugural committee is glad of Mr. Wilson's stand on the White House reception, and is entirely satisfied over the certainty that there will now be no reception. Mr. Wilson's ban on an invitation reception and his mandate for a democratic affair, if any were arranged, has put the final nail in the social arrangements of the inaugural leaders.

The veto of the reception and ball is turning the attention of society women to the suffragette pageant event. They will now take a more active part in its arrangement than they would have done if there had been some social affair planned by the citizens' inaugural committee or the Congressional Inaugural Committee.

Syrup of Figs is Best for a Child
If its little tongue is coated, breath feverish, stomach sour and bowels clogged.

Every mother immediately realizes after giving her child delicious Syrup of Figs that this is the ideal laxative and physic for the children. Nothing else regulates the little one's stomach, liver and thirty feet of tender bowels so promptly and so effectively as they deserve their little taste.

If your child isn't feeling well, resting nicely, eating regularly, and acting naturally, it is a sure sign that its little insides need a gentle, thorough cleansing at once.

When, however, irritable, feverish, stomach sour, breath bad or your little one has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, sore throat, full of cold, tongue coated, give a teaspoonful of Syrup of Figs and in a few hours all the foul, constipated, clogged up waste, undigested food and sour bile will gently move on and out of its little bowels without nausea, griping or weakness, and you will surely have a well, happy and smiling child again shortly.

With Syrup of Figs you are not drugging your children, being composed entirely of luscious figs, senna and aromatics, it cannot be harmful. Mothers should always keep Syrup of Figs handy. It is the only natural, liver and bowel cleanser and regulator needed. Little given today will save a sick child tomorrow.
